

DRIVEWAYS

Soon you will have a beautiful new roof! Your roof is the result of years of experience, the use of the finest raw materials, and the dedication of our entire Entegra staff. We want you to be pleased with your purchase. We are eager to deliver our high quality product to your roof and we're certain that you are anxious to have the job completed.

The tile delivery truck and associated delivery equipment is heavier than the weight of a conventional passenger car. Some driveways may not be able to support the weight of the delivery truck and could sustain damage as a result of the delivery process. We're not saying this will occur, but due to our incomplete knowledge as to the strength and condition of your driveway, we cannot guarantee there won't be driveway damage. Therefore, we cannot accept responsibility for any damage as a result of driving on your driveway. If this situation is unacceptable, please notify your roofing contractor. We do not have problems with the majority of our deliveries; however, we must disclose this information to ensure total understanding of the process of bringing this new roof to your home.

Our skilled and professional delivery team will carefully assess your roof for logical access points so as to minimize unwarranted disturbance to your property. We will take reasonable precautions. However, if you prefer that we stay off your driveway, we are willing to discuss a plan and any additional charges associated with the plan.

We look forward to processing and delivering your order and trust this letter served its purpose to inform and educate you.

Thank you for making "Entegra your First Choice"
