

variability of TAPERED SHAKE

Designed to give character and Old World charm to your roofline, our Tapered Shake finish is characterized by varying surface textures.

With this texture, a strong indentation runs down the center of the tile. Seventy five percent of the tiles on your roof will be broomswept on both sides, while twenty five percent of the tiles will be broomswept only on the left portion. In addition, the left hand side of the butt is cut at a 45° angle on each tile. All tiles are then intermixed and installed in a random fashion to create a beautiful, natural-looking roof.

With each roof being unique, please understand that your roof will not match any photo, sample or roofscape perfectly.

variability of RUSTIC SHAKE

Designed to simulate a shake roof, the Rustic Shake Collection is characterized by jagged butts and textured surfaces. This profile beautifully melds the benefits of a new roof with the timeless look of one that has been around for years.

The frequency and the degree of jagged butts and textured surfaces will vary within each tile, from tile to tile, as well as from roof to roof. Handcrafted, each piece of the Rustic Shake Collection is unique, producing a beautiful, natural-looking roof.

Please understand that your roof will not match any photo, sample or roofscape perfectly.
